GALLERIES' NIGHT!

DON'T BE TYPICAL TONIGHT

STORY MIKA APICHATSAKOL

Ditch your regular after work plans for gallery hopping this Friday night and weekend. Galleries' Night, an artistic affair that will take up your time between 5pm to late, returns on February 3 and 4. Venues on the Sathon side open their shows first on a Friday night, while those on the Sukhumvit side will wait until the next night to launch their exhibitions. After that you're free to catch anything you missed. However, we're not gonna lie and tell you that you can or should visit, all 50 or so participating galleries over such short period of time. So, here's a manageable list of 10 that we think deserve a little more attention than the others, as you plan your nightly art crawl through Bangkok this weekend.

TENTACLES

Narathiwat Ratchanakharin Soi 22

WHAT'S ON?

Take Away Artcorner

Support the unfamous! Tentacles has been offering completely unknown artists possibly your neighbour – a free chance to display their work to the public. Pieces of all styles, techniques and topics have been selected. Who knows? A masterpiece might be lurking among the collection.

Photo Synthesis

Like any form of art, photography can easily become hackneyed when innovation takes a back seat. In this exhibition, five young photographers aim to prove that the mind behind the shutter does make a difference.
